

Simple Theory for Soccer Betting

Contributed by Administrator
Sunday, 08 April 2007

Simple Theory for Soccer Betting

By Joseph Linhard

Among all sports betting, soccer betting is the easiest and has the most lucrative payout. It is easy in the sense that it can only be a home win or away win or a draw. It could only be Over or Under when it comes to total goal bet.

It easier said then done when you are actually betting on the game. Punter's seems to get carried away with emotion and greed. These are the two main reasons why most punters lose in soccer betting. I can say about 80% of those people who bet on soccer, lose their money in it. Only 20% of the punters will make a healthy amount from their bookmakers.

It's very important for anyone who likes to start a soccer betting career to first learn and master the basic principal. It is a very simple principal and yet not everyone can master it. It is called the greed and emotion principal. We should put greed and emotion away when we are betting in any soccer match.

You first set your plan to make a certain amount of winning from the bookmaker and you should stick to it. Call it a day off when you have met your objective. You should also set a limit to what you can bet. Put a stop lose point in your nett daily wages. If you hit the limit, you should stop and wait for another day to make a come back.

What punters usually do it to double up when they are loosing. This method is the surest way to dig your own grave. It's good when you double up and you win the bet but you should always consider what if you loose the bet. Soccer betting is a long term investment and you should plan your strategy properly and stick to it.

Some new punters will place a bet with their eyes close. This is because they don't know what to look out for when placing a bet. There are a lot of services that offer good tips for the match. You should consider going for these service if you are not sure about what game to bet.

You should always do a lot of research about the match that you are going to bet. I will list down a few important things that you should look out for before you place a bet.

Opening odds of each game should be noted. This will tell a lot about the game.

It will also be good to find out the lineup of the team. Find out who is playing and who is not playing.

What kind of form is the team now in? Have they been on the winning form or losing form?

And lastly, the statistics of the match plays a part too. Have Team A always win when playing Team B.

Author is a soccer betting expert and has 12 years of experience in soccer betting. to learn more about the author and his service, visit <http://www.soccerbettingpro.com> Writer is a soccer betting expert and has been in the scene for more than 12 years. Writer is the author of the book "Make your bookie your ATM machine"

Article Source: http://EzineArticles.com/?expert=Zack_Haris